

CENTENNIAL OF ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

It will be interesting to many friends and former students of St. Mary's College in Marion county that plans are well under way for the centennial celebration of the founding of that college in 1821 by the Jesuits. There are many prominent Paris men and Kentuckians have attended St. Mary's, and no doubt there will be a very interesting reunion in June. Alumni lists of several thousand names are being distributed and programs for the three-day Centennial Celebration indicates much interest. St. Mary's is one of the oldest Catholic colleges West of the Alleghenies, in fact, Jesuit Fathers founded Fordham University after disposing of their interests in St. Mary's.

MATRIMONIAL.

Dewey C. Barnhill, 22, and Miss Vina Myneur, 21, both residents of Bourbon county, were granted marriage license yesterday by County Clerk Pearce Paton.

Marriage licenses were issued Wednesday morning from the office of County Clerk Pearce Paton to the following: Larkin S. Watson, 26, and Miss Edna Bell, both of Paris; Wm. Barnes, 37, Covington, and Miss Melissa Nelson, 36, of Paris.

NELSON-BARNES

Miss Melissa Nelson, of Paris, and Wm. Barnes, of Covington, were married yesterday at the home of the bride, on Massie avenue, in this city. Rev. Arthur Fox, pastor of the Baptist church, officiated. The bride has for some time been employed at the Paris Baking Co. They will reside at the home of the groom, in Covington.

POINDEXTER-HOUSTON

A marriage license was granted yesterday from the office of County Clerk Pearce Paton, to Ben Houston, 22, of Paris, and Miss Katherine Poindester, 21, of Cynthiana. They were married at four o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Arthur Fox, pastor of the Paris Baptist church.

Mr. Houston is a well-known young business man of Paris. His bride is a handsome and attractive young Cynthiana woman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Poindester, of Cynthiana. They will make their home in this city. Mr. Houston and Miss Poindester were in an automobile accident some weeks ago, when the latter sustained injuries that confined her to the Massie Memorial Hospital, in this city, for some time.

The wiser we get the more wisdom we find in the golden rule.

The greatest task before all of us is efficiency, and the greatest task before efficiency is profit.

EDITORIAL FLINGS OF THIS, THAT 'EN 'TOTHER

The announcement that Burbank has added a new nut to the world will cause no excitement in Paris (Ky.) these days. It seems to us that there must be a new variety of "nut" popping up here every day.

It gives a man a thrill to be held up by a bandit or a highwayman, but it makes him angry to be held up by his landlord. And this is intended for a local application, as some Paris, (Ky.) landlords are notoriously close to the line in "holding up" tenants.

The noble art of dancing symbolizes grace. When true interpretation puts steps in proper place but when a squad of bimbos are treading with their beaux the noble art of dancing—Where is it? Goodness knows!

Some Paris men's idea of heaven on earth is to sell at one hundred per cent. what he makes, buy at ninety per cent. discount of his own needs, dodge all taxes and draw a pension from the government. And it does look pretty good when you come to think of it.

A distinguished German general suggests that General Pershing be sent to crush the Red armies in Russia and it must at least be admitted that the speaker's personal observations give him good reason for his belief that Black Jack could do it.

That Kentucky paper which opines that baldness causes worry or that worry causes baldness, may be right, yet fortunate among men is the man who has nothing more serious than baldness about which to worry.

When the clock in a certain South Main street home in Paris struck twelve the other night the head of the house came to the door of the parlor, and said, in a rather loud tone of voice: "Young man, is your self-starter out of order to-night?" The young man replied: "It doesn't matter as long as there is a crank in the house," and then he started.

If things continue as they are under prohibition administration, a witty Paris girl wants to know—

Will a storm be allowed to brew? Will the moon be allowed to get full? Will a ship be allowed to anchor over a bar? Will a captain be allowed to put in some port? Will cocktails be allowed on farmers' roosters? Will it be allowed to name children Tom and Jerry? Will a soldier be punished for getting half-shot in battle? Will hops be allowed in ballrooms? Will mourners be allowed to pass the bier at a funeral? Will a person be allowed to become drunk with success, or intoxicated with joy? Will doctors be allowed to prescribe for sham pain?

DON'T BE A GLOOMY GUS

We think it is up to every business man in Paris—and every Paris business man is a good business man, or ought to be—to strike a hopeful keynote in his talk and in his advertising. We say this to our local business men, to our farmers, too, and to every man who sells what he has, even if all he has is his daily labor.

Because there has been a slump in the price of this, that or the other commodity, it is the poorest reason in the world for talking "hard times." Pessimism never won anything. Gloom is a thing of the grave; it is not for a living man with a future before him. The times may have been hard for us some months past, but as everything changes, going from one extreme to the other, and striking normally between, we all know deep down in our hearts that there are good times ahead, and not very far ahead, either, if we put our best foot forward and the best smile to the front.

The man who recovers first from the gloom of his bad business, or low wages, or whatever it was that hit him, is the man who is going to have the most prosperity in the better times that are on the way, and they are on the way just as sure as the sun comes up and out of the East every morning. He is going to have the most prosperity because his efforts will stretch over a larger period than the fellow who slouches gloomily until the good times are so apparent that they reach out and hit him on the nose.

Therefore, we say to the business men of Paris, and particularly to the enterprising ones who believe in advertising Paris—Put optimism in your daily talk, your actions, and in your advertising. To the farmer and other workers whose tongues are their ads, we would say: Talk good times, they're coming, and soon.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

Millard Gray sold through the real estate firm of Mitchell, Moreland & Mitchell, a house and lot in Rosedale Addition to Philip Hopkins for a price not given out for publication. Mr. Hopkins will get possession about March 1, and will move to the property.

We all want light, and long to see ahead and keep on going, that we may leave the unpleasant behind.

ADVERTISING A NECESSITY

Statistics furnished by a financial agency, not in the publishing business, shows that of all the failures of 1920 eighty-four per cent. of them did not advertise. This exhibit is very interesting and should be an unerring evidence that business without advertising is susceptible to failures and should stimulate all men to go to the newspaper as a great helper to a growing business. The man who believes that advertising is absolutely necessary to a successful end.

Can you control your temper when it ought to be controlled?
